February 19th

Reading/Language Block

In class this week, we have been reviewing figurative language and text features. We also discussed two different types of interview formats (direct quotes and question/answer) that can be used in writing. We focused on how text features can help us summarize and understand a text. Next week, we will be reading a story about special effects in the movies in our reading textbook.

Math

This week we focused on U.S. customary units (feet, yards, inches) and metric units of measurement (millimeters, centimeters, meters, kilometers). Your child should be able to convert from one measurement to another with the help of a chart. Next week, we will work on finding the volume of different geometrical shapes. Then we will begin a special graphing project.

Science/Social Studies

We are reading two books that relate to the Civil War. One book is written in diary entry form, and it brings a personal side to the war. The other book discusses the important battles of the Civil War. There is A LOT of information in this short unit so study a little bit each day. The test will be next Friday.

Other News

If you would like to schedule a spring conference, sign up on PTC wizard on the district website. The dates are Thursday, March 3rd and Thursday, March 10th from 4:00-8:00.

It's hard to believe but we are at the end of the second trimester - this year is flying by! Look for your child's report card next Friday ☺

Have a wonderful weekend!
