

NEWS FROM Mrs. Dravet

February 26th

Reading/Language Block

We finished Unit 3 in our reading book this week, and the class took two of the district reading assessments that went with this unit. I will send home those tests next week. The class also read the story Special Effects in Television and the Movies. We also explored a new computer program that makes learning grammar fun and easy. Check out noredink.com to learn more!

Math

We are finishing up our unit on volume and measurement. Next week, we will begin a data project that will be fun and educational. The math test will be next Wednesday and a study guide will go home at the beginning of next week.

Welcome Spring!

Social Studies/Science

We took our test on the Civil War this week. Next week your child will be learning about nervous system and the brain with Mrs. Lynn. Stay tune!

Upcoming Events

On March 10th from 6:00-6:45 Rachel Unterfranz, our school speech therapist, will be hosting a parent training session regarding how to effectively read story books in order to increase receptive and expressive languages skills. This event will be held in the school library.

Also, if you would like to schedule a spring conference, please sign up on PTC wizard on the district website. The dates are Thursday, March 3rd and Thursday, March 10th from 4:00-8:00.

Finally, the art fundraiser projects are due on March 18th.

I will not send out a parent letter next Thursday due to the shortened week.

Have a wonderful weekend!
Mrs. Dravet
