The class has been busy writing their animal research papers. They have chosen some really interesting animals with some great adaptations. We also read the play The Stormi Giovanni Club, and reviewed how to use evidence from the text to make generalizations. We will finish up this story this week and finish Unit 4 next week.

Math

This week we continued working on multiplying and dividing fractions, as well as, reviewing for PARCC testing. We will finish Unit 8 next week, and take the test the following week.
